HOW TO CREATE THE PERFECT LANDSCAPE

13 TIPS FOR CHOOSING
THE BEST POOL BUILDER

Enchanted Evening

When these Texas homeowners found the home of their dreams, they aimed to create the perfect backyard to complement the house. They wished for the design of the pool to be contemporary yet also to flow seamlessly with the architecture of the home. With this in mind, they wasted no time in locating Scott Champlin of Keith Zars Pools for the project.

The goal was to create a beautiful addition to the home while creating a waterway for fitness, entertainment and relaxation. However, when construction began, two challenges arose for Champlin and his team. The first challenge was deciding which style would best suit the homeowners' desires, and the second challenge was the amount of space and different elevations in the backyard. Both issues were remedied by constant communication with the homeowner and builder, Ray Stadler of Stadler Custom Homes. The design was finally determined after reviewing many preliminary renderings.

Elevated fountains and raised walls extend the pool and spa upward to create an open feeling. The raised walls and spillways are enhanced with slate tile and cut stone coping. Multiple elevations of fountains with brass spillways turn this backyard into a southern oasis. When the sun sets, specialized lighting sets the mood for enchanted evenings.
